CONCLUSION: This scene from David’s life gives us a priceless set of analogies between the crippled Mephibosheth and the king. These analogies form a beautiful picture of the relationship between the sinner and the Lord Jesus. One author pictures it in the following way:

1. Mephibosheth once enjoyed _____ with is father, and so did man with the Creator in the Garden of Eden.
2. When disaster and fear came, the nurse fled and Mephibosheth suffered a _____ that left him crippled.
3. Out of love for Jonathan, David _____ grace to his crippled son.
4. Mephibosheth _____ nothing, _____ nothing, and, in fact, didn’t even try to win the king’s favor.

3.

5. David took Mephibosheth from a _____ place and restored him to a place of honor.
6. Mephibosheth's crippled limp was a constant _____ of grace.
7. When Mephibosheth sat down at the royal table, he was treated just like one of the king's _____.
